SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Mr. Simon Crowell of Walnut street was suddenly stricken with apoplexy yesterday morning about 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Crowell had left his home and had gone to his work downtown. Not feeling well he decided to return home and by the time he had reached his residence he was unable to talk. Doctors Quigley and Samuel were hastily summoned and administered aid. While his condition is very critical, the reports from his bedside this morning are more encouraging.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

Mr. Dimmitt Case of Bee Lick in Robertson county, suffered a horrible accident on last Saturday afternoon. He was in his barn hanging tobacco when the scaffold he was on fell. In his fall he struck a tobacco stick which caught under his chin and penetrated his head to a distance of five inches.

The new residence of Mr. W. W. Wikoff on West Third street has about been completed. This residence will be one of the most attractive homes in the West End when completed and can easily be seen from Second street being at the head of Cow street.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Was Mr. George Flanagan of This County Near Blue Lick Springs Sunday Afternoon.

Mr. George Flanagan of this county was seriously injured Sunday afternoon when a horse he was driving became frightened at an automobile and ran off throwing Mr. Flanagan from the buggy. A gentleman with him was also slightly injured.

After the accident Mr. Flanagan was brought to this city and taken to Hayswood Hospital by Dr. A. O. Taylor who was summoned to the scene of the accident. Investigation showed that he had sustained a fractured skull and several other injuries. His condition is very critical.

Mr. Flanagan is one of the prominent farmers in the county. He is a brother of Messrs. Con and John Flanagan of this city and is well known by many persons in this city.

The gentleman with Mr. Flanagan, Mr. Gene Hall, was only slightly injured although his injuries will keep him confined for some time. His ankle was broken and he sustained several severe bruises. He is a resident of the neighborhood in which the accident occurred.

A report from the hospital this morning was to the effect that he was somewhat better, having rested easily last night but his condition is very critical. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

ANOTHER WAREHOUSE

Experienced Tobacco Men of This City and County Take Over the Manchester Loose Leaf Warehouse and Will Move It To Their Lot at Bank and Front Streets.

Maysville is to have another loose leaf tobacco warehouse, and it is to be run by men who are up in G in the tobacco business, too.

Yesterday Messrs. H. L. Turner, Robert Wells, D. K. Wood, B. H. Wood and Thomas A. Keith, Jr., took over the Adams County, Ohio Loose Leaf Tobacco Company's holdings at Manchester, including the large warehouse at that place, which is 140x240 feet, and it will be dismantled and removed to this city and placed on the lot at the head of Bank street on Front street, in the Fifth Ward.

This movement for the establishment of another loose leaf warehouse here has been under way for several months. The gentlemen interested in the move started out to get a warehouse established in time for the opening of the 1916 season, and the taking over of the Manchester plant means that they will be successful.

The location of the new warehouse is the best of any in the city, according to old tobacco men. In the first place it is out of the tobacco district as now established by the seven warehouses East of Commerce street, and is the first one on the drive to that district going east. This means that about three-fourths of the tobacco hauled into Maysville by turnpikes will come to the new one first on the journey to market, as it is just one square nearer the center of the city. The promoters figure that a certain per cent. of the growers have heretofore been seeking a shorter drive, and their new warehouse will supply this want.

All the men interested in the new enterprise are thorough tobacco men; they know the business both by experience from the first planting through its growing and curing process to the marketing of it. Col. H. L. Turner, a grower himself in the Mayslick precinct and for three years a stockholder and officer of the Central Warehouse, is known all over this section by the growers and buyers as a man thoroughly capable of handling a warehouse to the best interests of the farmers; Mr. Robert Wells has spent all his life in the tobacco business and knows it from beginning to end; the Messrs. Wood were born and raised on a Mason county farm and were tutored in the school of experience when raising tobacco meant something to the growers, and Mr. Thomas A. Keith, Jr., went through three years of experience in the Central Warehouse here, where he became an adept in the business; so we see at a glance the new house has a roster of men that actually know the business, which means much to the growers hereabouts.

The promoters give assurances that the new house will be ready for business when the bell gives the signal for the 1916 season to open, and they will make a strong pull for all the business that can be induced to come to this house.

This one will make eight loose leaf warehouses in this city, which means that there will be more tobacco sold here this season than ever before, as they propose to not only move the warehouse from Adams county, but to bring its business as well, and as this year's crop is the largest ever produced around here, it is a foregone conclusion that the sales on this market will be carefully taken care of by the warehouses here.

PROMOTION AND BALLY DAYS

The Christian Bible School plans to have two big days. One on next Sunday morning when the Promotion exercises will be held and the other on the Sunday following, October First, when the Rally Day will bring out an extra large attendance. The officers of this school think there should be five hundred on this Rally Day. A third special service will be on next Sunday evening when the Church choir will give a service in song. This church is known for its good music and so the many extra solos, duets and quartets will be greatly enjoyed.

NOTICES SENT OUT

Notices have been sent out for the Old Soldiers Reunion to be held in Beechwood Park on next Wednesday September 27. The ranks of those that fought and bled for their country are rapidly thinning out and they should be honored while living. A large crowd is expected to be present for the reunion. A big basket dinner will be a feature of the day.

BOY WANTED

Reliable boy wanted to carry papers and work around office. Apply at once to J. B. Price.

BUILDING CONCRETE TOWER

The contractors at the Lock and Dam No. 33 are engaged in building a concrete tower on the upper coffer. The tower will be 65 feet in height and the concrete will be conveyed to the place wanted by means of a large pipe running from the tower. This method is much more efficient than the old way of moving the concrete in buckets.

MARRIED IN FLEMINGSBURG

Mr. John McDonald and Miss Elsie McIntosh of this city were married in Flemingsburg Saturday.

VISIT TO PYTHIAN HOME

At Lexington To Be Made By Local K. of P. Lodge Sunday—Large Number of Automobiles To Make Trip—Surrounding Lodges Invited to Make Trip.

Limestone Lodge No. 36 Knights of Pythias of this city has complete arrangements for a big auto trip to the Pythian Children's Home at Lexington next Sunday.

About twenty-five automobiles have been secured from local members of the lodge to make the trip and it is thought that a like number will come in from surrounding lodges.

After arriving at the home dinner will be served and during its progress the children inmates will be taken auto rides by the owners of the cars.

An inspection of the various departments of the home will be made after the dinner hour. "Daddy" Moore, the Superintendent, has promised to have everything in readiness for the visitors and it will not take them long to see the splendid work being done by this institution.

The Pythian Home has long been the pride of all the lodges of the state, who have so generously contributed to its support, in erecting new buildings and modernizing the old ones.

On the return trip a visit will be made to the J. B. Haggin farm, which is the finest in the state.

All the auto owners have very kindly consented to donate their cars free of charge and it is thought that a very large number of the lodge members will take advantage of the opportunity of making the trip.

All the arrangements will have been completed by Friday night and all members who wish to go are requested to attend the regular meeting at that time.

WILL SELL DESIRABLE FARM

On Wednesday of this week the farm of the late R. J. Galtier will be sold. This farm lies two and one-half miles east of Mayslick, on the Blue Lick turnpike and contains about 235 acres. It is in a high state of cultivation and is some of the best farm land in Mason county. It contains about 2 acres of virgin woodland, a six room dwelling house, a tenant house and other buildings are on the farm. Full possession will be given on March 1, 1917.

HORSE STILL WITH US

(Kansas City Times)

A sunstruck horse lay on the pavement, with a crowd of sympathetic persons around it, one of whom said: "I am always sorry for the overworked horse of the city streets. I am glad the motor car has almost driven the horse out, and soon there will be no more horses for ignorant men to abuse."

Nearly everyone believes that the horse is fast disappearing; but they are in error. Census statistics show that there are more horses in this country now than ever before notwithstanding that 500,000 horses have been gathered up by France and Great Britain and sent to the war front.

The motor car and the motor truck, while greatly increasing in numbers, have not caused a corresponding decrease in the use of horses. This is shown by figures gathered in Chicago, where, in the last five years motor vehicles increased from 11,000 to 43,000, while horse-drawn vehicles only decreased from 58,000 to 49,000. Thus 32,000 motor cars came into use, but they displaced only 9,000 horse-drawn vehicles. From these figures it would seem that it will be a long time before horses disappear from the streets.

MIXING POLITICS WITH THE FARM LOAN PLAN

A reader of the Herald writes to point out that the farm loan board found audiences more friendly and interested in its Springfield hearing than it did at the earlier hearings at Augusta and Concord, which were the subject of recent editorial comment on this page. The newspaper reports bear out this claim, and thus justify the prediction of the Herald that the board would probably get a more cordial greetings as it worked westward. It remains true, however, that northern New England farmers and bankers are getting along very well under existing conditions and not only feel no need of the new arrangement but view it with suspicion and hostility. The Augusta and Concord hearings made that plain.

It is also plain, as no less staunch defender of the administration than the New York Times points out, that the board, by hustling so precipitously into Maine on the eve of its election, lays itself open to the charge of political, rather than financial, motives. The board sent a publicity man ahead of it into Maine loaded with fulsome praise of the law and the benefits it would bring to the farmers. An other publicity man accompanied the board and offered the reporters who attended the hearing full "reports" of that affair, even before it was held, each report putting emphasis on the great love that the administration feels for the farmers. It was so patently a campaign bid for the rural vote, so obviously a partisan move, that the incident has furnished a rich text for the Maine editors and campaign speakers. Even the Waterville Sentinel, the organ of the Democratic machine, says that it is "unfortunate" that the board visited Maine at this time. That is putting it mildly.—Boston Herald.

WHEN A FELLOW KNOWS IT ALL

There are but few country towns in existence but what have some one or more persons who "know it all." That is, they fondly imagine they know it all and most people give them credit for being better posted on everything and everybody than their neighbors are.

But are they? The fellow who is a "know all" is also most generally a free talker. He trades information for information, gossip for gossip, and scandal for scandal.

Thus it is that he is often able to impart certain unimportant information to his associates in a "strictly confidential manner," giving the impression that he has been in close touch with the powers that be.

But when you sift it down he has simply passed along, with embellishments of his own, information that is more or less of a public nature, and which would have reached the public in the usual routine in the course of a few days.

As a matter of fact, the know it all man seldom knows in advance of the really important affairs of life or of the commercial world, for no one cares to impart such information to the one who knows it all and tells all he knows.

Do not tie to the man who knows it all, for in all probability he knows less than you.

It is scarcely worth while quoting from the Democratic platform of 1912 to show the promises of that party in regard to civil service nor have the promises of Woodrow Wilson, erstwhile vice-president of the Civil Service Reform League, been of any more value. A recent investigation of the subject discloses the fact that 3,097 appointees have been blundered into the civil service, without examination, during this administration, while 550 have been put in by executive order of President Wilson. The St. Louis platform reads: "We affirm our declaration for the rigid enforcement of the Civil Service laws." This conveys the impression that if they are continued in power the Democrats are prepared to make another raid on the Civil Service.

Senator Huggart of Indiana says President Wilson will be re-elected because "the people admire him for his firmness." Kindly repeat that, Mr. Huggart. There are so many who are not sure whether they got you right on the "firmness"—Nevada (Mo.) Herald.

A few citizen soldiers who thought they were going to the border on a picnic are now making a picnic of themselves in their efforts to get back.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

T. R. Going West—Col. Theodore Roosevelt is going west. He will make five speeches for Mr. Hughes. While the Democratic managers may not be able to do their sums with much accuracy of accurate results there will be no sincere doubts in their minds as to what are the prospects of their candidate when Mr. Roosevelt gets through with him, according to those who have been permitted a glimpse at the outline of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches. Some of these enthusiasts even go so far as to say that the Democratic donkey will look like an army mule after six months in the European trenches, once Mr. Roosevelt has completed his speaking trip. That was what he looked like to the Maine voters after Mr. Roosevelt had spoken there, and there may be some basis for the prediction of Mr. Hughes supporters regarding his appearance in the middle west after he has gone up against the body blows of "the Mighty Hammer."

Wilson Demands Ginger—That "Wilson demands ginger" is the announcement in a dispatch from Mr. Wilson's summer home to the New York papers. It appears that Mr. Wilson is highly indignant over the result in Maine and is disposed to hold his campaign managers responsible for it. It is predicted, therefore, that there is a very bad quarter of an hour in store for Chairman McCormick. Mr. Wilson never reads any criticisms of himself and, doubtless, is wholly unaware of the drastic condemnation to which he has been subjected by Mr. Hughes, Col. Roosevelt and other Republican speakers. Close friends describe him as convinced beyond argument of his own popularity and firmly persuaded that nothing will prevent the American people from entrusting their Government to him for another four years. But the Maine results were disturbing and, according to the correspondents with him, he purposes to make someone suffer for their carelessness in losing Maine.

The Middle West—That hopeless optimist, Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is confident that even if the Progressives have returned to the Republican party, as shown by the Maine election, "the middle west is overwhelmingly for Wilson," while Secretary Lane asserts that "West of the Alleghenies is solid for the President." In 1914, the Maine Republicans polled 58,862 votes; the Progressives 18,225. In Ohio, the Republicans polled 524,625 the Progressives 60,971. The Republicans, Willis, was elected by 31,258 plurality. The percentage of Progressives in Ohio was, therefore, much smaller than in Maine. The Democratic candidate received 92,226 fewer votes than the combined Republican and Progressive vote. In Wisconsin the Republican can candidate for Governor was elected with 140,787 votes, the Progressives casting 32,660 the combined vote being 52,838 greater than that of the Democrat. In Iowa, the Republican candidate for Governor was elected by a plurality of 30,861. The Progressives polled 17,329. In Indiana, two years ago, a Democratic Senator was re-elected by a plurality of 45,483. Miller, Republican, 226,766, and Beveridge, Progressive, 108,581. Mr. Beveridge is now supporting Mr. Hughes. Add one half his vote to that of Mr. Miller and see where Shively, the Democratic candidate, would have been. Democratic arithmetic must be as popular as Democratic statesmanship.

Hughes in the West—"Gov. Hughes' western trip was an unqualified success." This is the statement of a newspaper correspondent of long experience, who represents an independent paper and who "trailed" the Republican candidate throughout the west. As every newspaperman knows, the man who trails—that is, travels over the same ground about a week behind the candidate—has a far better opportunity of observing the real effect of the candidate's trip than those who travel with him. "Mr. Hughes," continues this correspondent, "made a splendid impression. He made no attempt to imitate Col. Roosevelt. He did not attempt orational pyrotechnics. But he talked with an earnestness, a clearness and a convincing logic which held the rapt interest of his auditors and made a splendid impression. People told me they were so interested in his speeches that they forgot to applaud and never thought of interrupting to cheer. When I told that to the Democratic managers they laughed with derision—until I reminded them that Lincoln's speeches were never cheered and that even his Gettysburg address was not applauded. The people were too much impressed by Lincoln to give any outward evidence, other than their intense silence, of the deep impression his words made. And from what many Republicans and Democrats and all the newspapermen I met on Mr. Hughes' trail told me, I became convinced that he made much the same kind of speeches and the same sort of impression as did Mr. Lincoln."

The Shipping Bill The New York Sun characterizes the passage of the McAdoo-Wilson Shipping Bill as "a concession to pig headed obsession," by the estimation of many competent observers, however, the Sun is inaccurate in this description. It is true that the Shipping bill will serve no good purpose. It is true that it appropriates $50,000,000 of the people's money without promising anything but loss and injury in return, but there are certain features of the bill which should not be overlooked. First, the bill creates five jobs paying $7,500 a year each and one paying $5,000 a year to be filled on the eve of the national election, a reason quite sufficient in itself, judging by the record of this administration. Then, as was so often explained to reluctant Democrats in Congress, it "saves the face of the President." Of course it may puzzle any intelligent analyst to understand how the passage of the mere shadow of the original bill can save Mr. Wilson's face, but his son-in-law assured members of Congress it would and so, perhaps it has. When the Crown Prince first conceived the idea of a Shipping bill, there was great need of ocean transportation and many marooned foreign vessels were in American ports. It was Crown Prince McAdoo's idea to buy these ships, but he made the fatal mistake of putting himself and Secretary Daniels on the board to make the purchases. Republicans, and some Independent Democrats, like Senator Bankhead, foresaw that to buy these vessels in time of war and send them out under the American flag would inevitably involve in the European war, while Democratic and Republican Senators alike were wholly unwilling to trust Mr. McAdoo to purchase $50,000,000 worth of ships. They knew of course that poor old Daniels would be a "me too" on the board and that the other members would dare oppose the President's son-in-law. They sought to amend the bill by eliminating McAdoo and Daniels from the board and inserting a provision against buying foreign ships. The Crown Prince would not permit that and the bill was defeated by a Republican filibuster with which the Democratic Senators frankly sympathized, emphatically expressing their sympathy in private. So the bill went over until this time and is now passed with the required amendments. Now, however, private enterprise has done much to supply the lack of ships and every shipyard is so crowded that no ships can be built for the government for three years and none are for sale. But still it is not a useless measure. There are those few fortunate and "deserving" Democrats who will get $7,500 a year and one $5,000 a year. After Maine, Mr. Wilson needs more pie to inject "ginger" in this campaign.

"TO HELL WITH WAR"

"If War Is Hell," Declares Bishop Anderson, in Conference Sermon.

Stevensville, Ohio, September 17.—"Sherman said war is hell, then I say to hell with war," Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, thus expressed himself in a sermon on world conditions before the Northeast Ohio M. E. Conference here today.

"Responsibility for this present conflict rests with conscienceless and ungodly monarchs of Europe, who, with their extreme militarism, belong to the pagan ages," he declared. "This war is unforgivable, a damnable outrage against Christianity," the bishop said. "England sought to avert the war, but Germany's answer was the ruthless invasion of Belgium. Europe's crying need is the Gospel."

He approved the neutrality of the United States and favored preparedness to prevent national injustice. Preparedness does not mean militarism, he declared. "Militarism is a crime against humanity and the people are crying against its barbarism. Down with it."

That a steam roller is being prepared by the dry forces for John Barleycorn for the next state-wide prohibition campaign was the statement of President John A. White, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League. He declared the hyphenated American was not more to be feared than the syncretized American. Twenty-nine new ministers were ordained by Bishop Anderson this afternoon.

THOOP SHIP CARRYING FARRANZA SOLDIERS DESTROYED BY FIRE, WITH LOSS OF 200 LIVES.

Douglas, Ariz., September 17.—News has just been received here of the destruction by fire of a steamer carrying Farranza troops from Manzanillo to Guaymas. Two hundred lives were lost.

Jose Diegez, brother of General M. M. Diegez, who was on the steamer on a special mission from Carranza to the Sonora officials, escaped, swimming ashore naked.

The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin, legalists being suspected.

INFORMATION AWAITED BY WASHINGTON REGARDING SINKING OF SHIPS CARRYING AMERICANS

Washington, September 17.—Information is expected this week by the State Department concerning the sinking, presumably by mines or torpedoes, of several vessels on which it is alleged there were Americans as passengers or members of their crews.

A communication from Austria in reply to the American note containing three demands as a result of an attack by an Austrian submarine commander on the American tanker Petrol is overdue. The State Department will not insist upon an early compliance by Austria with the demands of this Government, but will wait a reasonable time for the answer. By "reasonable time" it was expected was meant that great latitude giving Austria opportunity to consult with the officers responsible, if they still are alive and have not been captured.

The United States demanded an apology, the payment of an indemnity and punishment of the commander of the offending submarine. There is a possibility that Austria may refuse to comply with these requirements and offer to submit the matter to arbitration to The Hague.

MORE THAN FIFTY OF SHIPS SENT DOWN BY GERMAN SUBMARINES WITHIN A WEEK

Berlin, September 17.—Between September 3 and September 11 German submarines destroyed in the English channel or the Atlantic Ocean 26 hostilities merchant ships of 26,220 gross tons. Announcement was made today that during August 126 hostile ships of 170,679 gross tonnage were destroyed by German or Austrian submarines or by mines.

Thirty-five neutral merchant ships carrying contraband of war to enemy countries also were destroyed.

BRITISH OFFICERS ARMED

Washington, September 17.—Two British officers commanding the boarding party which recently held up and examined the Philippine steamer Cebu within Philippine territorial waters, were armed, according to a supplementary report of the incident received at the War Department today from Governor General Harrison.

WHIRL THROUGH HOOSIER STATE

Will Keep Republican Presidential Nominee Busy Three Days.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 17.—Detailed plans for the Charles E. Hughes special train through Indiana Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week were practically completed today at the offices of the Republican State Committee.

State Chairman Will H. Hayes will accompany the train during the three days it is in this state, and other officials of the state committee, including L. W. Henley, Secretary, and Jesse Eschbach, Chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, will be with the train at least one day each.

There will be no general committee from the state to accompany the train but instead a committee of three from each county where Mr. Hughes will speak will meet the train in the adjoining county and accompany the special to their own county. Candidates for Congress and the district Chairman will accompany the train through their own districts and members of the Executive and Campaign Committee also will be with the train part of the time.

Mr. Hughes will be a guest of Chas. W. Mairbanks, candidate for Vice President, at the latter's home Saturday night following his address in Indianapolis and during Sunday until his train departs on Sunday evening.

State Chairman Hayes had planned to go with the train only on the first day that Mr. Hughes was to speak in this state, but he received an urgent request yesterday from A. T. Hart, Western Campaign Manager at Chicago, asking him to remain with the train the full three days. It is expected that Hart will be with the train.

Details for the Indianapolis meeting next Saturday night are being worked out by Charles W. Jewett, Republican County Chairman, and his associates. It is not yet decided who will preside at the Indianapolis meeting.

James P. Goodrich, candidate for Governor; James E. Watson and Harry S. New, candidate for United States Senator, will each be with the train for one day.

There are 35 persons in the Hughes party. The newspaper men in the party will be the guests of State Chairman Hayes at the Columbia Club Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Hughes's first stop will be in Monon, Thursday morning, and his next principal speech will be at Lafayette. From there he will go to Fort Wayne, and then to Richmond. On the second day his first principal speech will be at Marion, then at South Bend, and on the third day his principal speeches will be at Gary and Indianapolis.

In addition to these addresses his train will stop at about 30 stations in Northern Indiana, and the candidate is scheduled to make short talks from his train at each stop. The stops will be from 15 to 45 minutes.

The women having stopped wearing petticoats, how will the heroine proceed when she sees the train rushing to destruction and finds it necessary to flag it?

NO PROTEST MADE AGAINST FORMER PRESIDENT SPEAKING IN OHIO

Washington, September 17.—No request from the Republican organization in Ohio has been made to the Republican National Committee to keep Theodore Roosevelt out of the state during the national campaign.

"I discussed the Ohio situation intimately with Republican leaders in New York this week, and you can say without qualification that no such request came from any member of the organization," said a member of the Republican Congressional Committee today. "It is possible that requests were made by individuals that Roosevelt keep out of the state; such protests are made against almost every one from some sections of the country."

"No particular significance is to be attached to the fact that Roosevelt will not speak in Ohio immediately. He will make six or eight speeches, beginning with one at Battle Creek, Mich., the latter part of this month and will continue west to the Pacific. On his return East attention will be given to a new itinerary, and this may include Ohio."

This Republican, who is in the closest touch with plans made for speeches, but who did not care to have his name used in connection with the Roosevelt itinerary because it does not come within his particular division of the Speakers' Bureau, said that one reason why Colonel Roosevelt will not go into Ohio at once is that Mr. Hughes is to speak there soon.

It is doubtful that Colonel Roosevelt will make more than one speech in any one state. As a result many states will be omitted from his itinerary. Later in October he will be sent where he will do the most good.

Ohio is promised a good assortment of Republican spellbinders. Both Mr. Hughes and former President Taft will speak in the state, as will Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, who is rated as one of the country's foremost experts on the tariff. Evidently there is a determination to feature the tariff issue in Ohio, as representative J. W. Fordney, of Michigan, is being engaged for more speeches in Ohio than any other state.

Other speakers will be Senator Cummins, of Iowa; Representative Temple, of Pennsylvania; Representative Kelly, of Michigan, and Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Maysville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, says: "I think kidney trouble came from a strain in my case. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I hadn't caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. It finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and at times my hands were the same way. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

A PERMANENT CURE
OVER THREE YEARS LATER.
Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have completely and permanently cured me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BRITISH CENSORSHIP TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN BUSINESS INTERESTS

Washington, September 17.—Sir Richard Crawford, commercial adviser of the British Embassy, is arranging with prominent American banking, commercial and industrial interests for a conference to be held at an early date in New York City.

The object of the conference will be to devise some means whereby the effects of the British censorship of American mails may be ameliorated.

The volume of complaints from American business interests has become so formidable that the British Government has decided to treat directly with them, the State Department through its diplomatic efforts having failed to obtain any relief from England.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

Frankfort, Ky., September 18—Miss Jessie O. Yancey, of Maysville, was today appointed a member of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission by Governor Stanley. She will fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Desha Brockbridge of Lexington, resigned.

Miss Yancey is county school superintendent of Mason county. She is familiar with the work of the Tuberculosis Commission, having represented that board at the County Teachers' Institutes.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT.

The great sale of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all over this land is the result of genuine merit. The reason is that this good old fashioned root and herb medicine actually helps those suffering from the ailments peculiar to women. If it did not, would not the women of America have found it out in forty years, so that few of them would buy?

GENERAL DUKE BURIED AT LEXINGTON

Lexington, Ky., September 19—While a bugler in the distance sounded "Taps," with more than 100 veterans and scores of others, including many of the most representative men of the State, gathered around, the body of General Basil W. Duke, one of the last surviving Brigadier Generals of the Confederacy and one of Kentucky's most notable citizens, was lowered into his grave beside that of his wife and within a few feet of the resting place of General John Hunt Morgan, in the Lexington cemetery yesterday afternoon.

The body of General Duke arrived here yesterday morning, accompanied by his son, Henry Duke, and was met at the Union Station by relatives and a delegation of veterans. It was taken to the residence of R. C. Morgan, 408 West Third street, where hundreds of friends called to pay tribute.

Services preceding the burial were held in Christ Church Cathedral at 2:30 o'clock. Dean Massey conducting, assisted by Bishop Hurton and Dean Craig, of Louisville. The church was filled. One hundred and sixty-two Confederates, a large representation of Lexington United Daughters of the Confederacy and numerous others made up the congregation.

NEW YORK STATE PRIMARY TODAY

New York, September 18—Candidates for United States Senator and a complete ticket will be nominated at the state-wide primary tomorrow. Chief interest in the election apparently centered tonight in whether the former leaders of the Progressive party will be able to swing the vote of a majority of the rank and file to Governor Charles S. Whitman, leading Republican candidate for Governor. One wing of the party favored the election of Judge Samuel Seabury, whose candidacy for Governor on the Democratic ticket is unopposed.

National as well as state leaders of both parties are deeply interested in the outcome of the Progressive primary contests for they believe it may have an important bearing upon the outcome of the Presidential campaign in New York. It is conceded by both sides that a majority of those who vote for Governor Whitman in the primary will support Charles E. Hughes for President while most of those who support Judge Seabury will vote for President Wilson.

COUNTY COURT

In the Mason County Court yesterday Miss Clark Farrow was appointed administratrix of Samuel T. Farrow, deceased, with Mrs. Ella Farrow as surety.

Messrs. Mike Brown, S. D. McDowell and Gordon Sulser were appointed to appraise the personal estate of Samuel T. Farrow, deceased.
